The Object of Rotary

THE FOUR WAY TEST: OF THE THINGS WE THINK, SAY, AND DO

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all Concerned?
3. Will it build GOOD WILL and better Friendships?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all Concerned?

Eric Golub Author & Comedian

Our guest speaker, Eric Golub, was certainly different from the Rotary presentations we typical get. Eric refers to himself as a politically conservative columnist, blogger, author, public speaker, satirist and comedian. While he did seem to be sort of conservative in a strange kind of way, he perhaps talked a bit too fast for some of us to fully appreciate his humor. However, he clearly favored satire as a means to communicate his thoughts. His monologue covered a variety of topics ranging from politics, religion, education, race & gender.

Eric spent quite a bit of time talking about his recent creation of a new movement of judging women called “Back Sides Matter”. He likes this so much he has created a t-shirt design with this slogan emblazoned on it. He was seen trying to sell the shirt (and a book) at the door after the meeting adjourned. However, it seems everyone escaped with their wallets intact.

Eric was born in Brooklyn and raised in Long Island. That explains some of his views. He has lived in Los Angeles since 1990. This time has further molded his outlook. To top it off, he received a Bachelors degree from the University of Judaism and his MBA from USC. He certainly fits the Trojan mold!

You can read more from Eric at his TYGRRRR EXPRESS blog. Eric is also the author of the book trilogy “Ideological Bigotry,” “Ideological Violence,” and “Ideological Idiocy.”
