The Object of Rotary

THE FOUR WAY TEST: OF THE THINGS WE THINK, SAY, AND DO

1. Is it the TRUTH?

Queen Gail and Her Court

Annual Organizational Meeting

President Gail Tannehill unveiled her priorities for the coming Rotary year and asked each club service director to briefly describe what they do and their focus for the coming year. Gail joked that her first priority was to not get impeached, but she would also like to increase the visibility of the club's good work throughout the community by making better use of social media to highlight our activities and ultimately increase membership. She also wants to ensure that new members feel welcome and get involved in Rotary projects early. Lastly, Gail reminded members that they should all have received an invoice for their annual dues of $700.

In addition to helping increase membership, new membership director John Fisher wants to help new members speed their transition from red badge wearers to blue. Program chair John Hamon would like to build capacity for club members to be available to share their insights and experiences in the event of last minute cancellation by a scheduled speaker. He asked that those needing to leave our lunch meetings early let the speaker know in advance as a matter of courtesy. Lastly, John announced that he has changed his initial plans and decided to run again for City Council! Bob Fonarow will serve along with Katy Wetterstrand as co-international service directors. Bob announced the "Russians are coming" as five Russian journalists will be coming to our club as part of "Open World". Gail added there will also be a trip to Belize to assist with the setting up of an eye clinic. Julie Opheim serves as community service director and coordinates all big events during the year. She encouraged new members to volunteer to make these events successful. Joe Irick continues as vocational service director helping with 17 different initiatives including the Four Way Test essay and Skills USA competitions. Volunteers are always appreciated to help judge various competitions. As club service director, Jennifer Sorenson leads recognition and social activities. (continued on page 3)

Pat Sayne Recognized

President Gail Tannehill presented past president Pat Sayne with a clock to commemorate Pat's service in leading the club this past year. In addition to his regular duties, Pat led efforts to revise the club constitution, by-laws, and policies. Thank you Pat!
